RESEARCH EXPERIENCE

Research Intern

December 2015 – July 2016

Stein Studios; She Spun Films | New York City, NY

Supervisors: Linda Stein, Sarah Connors

A project-based internship that involved assistance in planning, organization, character development, and historical research on the roles of heroic women during the Holocaust for the production of a three-part documentary.

Student Researcher

August 2015

Estación Biológica La Suerte, Costa Rica, Department of Anthropology, Santa Clara University | Santa Clara, CA

Supervisor: Dr. Michelle Bezanson

I collected observational behavioral data, involving instantaneous focal sampling, on a habituated troop of white-faced capuchins with a focus on activity budget, foraging efficiency, and diet. Additionally, I conducted a study on the efficacy of seed scarification by white-faced capuchins on guava seed germination.

Research Assistant

June 2014 – August 2014

School of Informatics and Computing/ School of Public and Environmental Affairs, Indiana University | Bloomington, IN

I conducted qualitative interviews involving risk assessment and the anthropology of cyber security.

Student Researcher

Summer 2012

Off the Beaten Track: Anthropology Field School, Gozo, Malta, University of Leuven | Belgium

Supervisors: Dr. Marc Vanlangendonck, Dr. Sam Janssen, Dr. Trish Campbell

Engrossed in the Gozitan household, I learned how to cook traditional meals, while observing conventional family structures and roles. As a social scientist conducting fieldwork pertaining to gender and sexuality, I gained an understanding of the various social, economic, and familial roles and consequences of being queer in the predominantly Catholic nation.
